Extreme piety, reverence for Almighty- this is great quality to have. One naturally evolves into that through intense practice of mantra. One begins to feel the movement of Love in the body. One begins to think less on oneself and more on others.

One's focus becomes less "I" centered as one begins to see the wider perspective and embrace the world as one's family.

It begins with the caring for others outside of one's immediate circle of family and friends. As one evolves in consciousness, one begins to expand one's awareness to the world around him or her.

Compassion stirs in the heart. If one continues from that point to rise higher, to evolve even beyond that, one begins to see all the peoples of the world, on every continent, as a part of him or her.

One is a part of the world beyond one's borders. Then, a point is reached where one feels fully Love which goes beyond compassion.

One begins to see Almighty, Divine in every face.

Ultimately, one experiences this blissful state "I and my Father are One" .

This is a state which cannot successfully be mimicked, which some high teachers try to do.

A state of complete surrender to Almighty is one which shines through every thought, every word, every action. It is a state of being few reach in their lifetime. It comes through effort and GRACE.

On every Homa farm there must be bees. The art of beekeeping is one which is absolutely urgent to be learned and passed on. In Homa environment, bees should be able to survive where in all other environments now, they will disappear. Disease is not necessarily the issue here. The bees are simply disappearing. Therefore, Homa farms are the only answer. Yes, yes. Purchase bees and hives and learn immediately all that is needed to maintain them, the Homa farming way. Indeed, begin with minimum two, maximum three at this time. Later, there can be more added. This is of utmost importance for the eco balance on the farm. All other Homa farms in existence should consider this an urgent matter and begin with beekeeping at once.

Yes, yes. Risk of diseases, particularly from contaminated water supply, is greater now than ever before. Whole cities will be advised not to drink the water and eventually they will be advised not to use the water for bathing and washing. This has extremely serious implications. How does one living in a city create one's own water supply? At that point, people will be rushing to the outlying areas to live, in order to survive the contamination and resultant diseases it causes.

Those of you who are considered "Eco Pioneers" now, and thought of as foolish for leaving city comforts and life-style for country life, will be besieged by requests for assistance. Many will, at that point, not have the skills or awareness to begin to forge a life of self-sufficiency in rural areas. They will not come equipped with a well-trained "green thumb" or a working knowledge of organic farming, home building, or herbs for healing. But by absolute necessity, they will be drawn to this life-style.

Create such farms now which, if possible, can be expanded to provide sanctuary to those in need. Some will come with economic awareness and financial means, but without your knowledge they will be lost. Particularly the healing benefits of HOMA fire and ash will be incomparable in a world where allopathic medicines have lost their efficacy.

Paradoxically, as allopathic medicines lose their ability to be effective in curing disease, and the world becomes more disease-prone, the power of AGNIHOTRA ASH to heal illnesses will increase dramatically!

Store your Agnihotra ash in copper, glass, ceramic and the like...never in plastic, never in [other] metal[s]. Keep only pure Agnihotra ash for medicinal purposes. Distribute it freely.

Homa Delights Bhutan

Dr. A. Thimmaiah

I had an opportunity to visit Bhutan from 2nd June to 17th June 2007, on an invitation from the Ministry of Agriculture, Royal Government of Bhutan. The purpose of the visit was to train the extension workers of the Agriculture Department in Low-Cost Sustainable Agriculture by utilizing the local resources and also to provide a road map to improve the livelihoods of small and marginal farmers through organic farming in their Tenth Five Year Plan.

Bhutan is predominantly an agrarian economy. More than 70 % of the geographical area is forest. The Vision 2020 states that Bhutan will maintain 60 % of the total area under forest at all times to come. The farming community comprises of 79 % and amongst them 40 % are small and marginal farmers. The farmers who are in remote places have no electricity, housing and basic facilities. Some have to walk for two days to get to the main road head. Due to inaccessibility, men (white collared) and machine have not reached these hamlets.

Farming in Bhutan is still traditional with little or no use of external inputs. In 2000 about 1,800 tons of fertilizers were used by 30 % of the farmers who had access to roads.

Bhutanese are staunch Buddhists and follow Ahimsa or nonviolence. Killing animals for meat by Buddhists is prohibited in Bhutan. Woefully meat is imported from India and the majority of the population eat meat. The religious sentiments are so strong that the farmers do not want to kill the pests; rather, they choose alternative means like use of repellents or antifeedants. Due to these feelings, organic agriculture could make an easy entry.

Even today, agriculture in Bhutan has similarities to the Vedic system of farming. Sowing dates are based on the planetary positions, prayers are offered to please different deities and receive their blessings before any agriculture activity. Flags commonly called as “air flags” are placed at different points to potentise their prayers through a medium, i.e air. The farmers still adopt a traditional practice called “Jingnse” wherein the monks visit the farmers and burn wood and other materials and chant prayers. The ash obtained after the ceremony is spread in the field to solve the problems of pests and diseases by farmers even now. This was the connecting link to Homa.

Three training programs were held at
a) Regional Centre, Jakar in Bhumtang,
b) Regional Centre, Bajo, Wangdue
c) Regional Centre, Yusipang, Thimpu

In all these training programs I had kept a section called, “No-Cost Inputs in Agriculture” where Agnihotra was demonstrated. The film Rays of Hope by Mary Lee Weir was shown after a brief talk on Homa before demonstration. The trainees were very much interested and keen to practice Homa themselves. After the demonstration I had a tough time in controlling the crowd who were falling on the pyramid to collect ash. I thought, for a moment, that the next Homa demonstration may warrant police protection! During every demonstration the height of the cow dung cake layer in the pyramid kept on increasing, to create more ash to distribute.

I had taken 20 sets of books and 20 Agnihotra pyramids and all were sold out in no time. A few school teachers also attended the training. Every school has an agriculture course and the teachers were keen to demonstrate Homa – “Indian Jingnse” to their students. The day is not far wherein Bhutan can become one of the active centers in Homa Agriculture with the Divine Grace and Will.

Agnihotra Program in Sunland, California

Barry Rathner

On June 24 Donna Scott and I spoke and Donna, Samuel Kiwasz and I performed Agnihotra with a group of more than fifty persons in Sunland, California (fifteen miles north of Los Angeles). Samuel had learned Agnihotra from Donna many years ago and expressed desire to start up again; he arranged our participation in the program.

Michael Horn

Michael Horn, a leading lecturer on UFOs and extraterrestrials, was the main speaker at the Sunland event. One key point he made was on distinguishing between prophecies and warnings. Warnings, he said, were pretty much set in stone; the incidents were going to happen. Prophecies, on the other hand, he said, still contained a bit of wiggle room. In other words, humanity has the power to somewhat assuage or lessen the effects of certain disasters that could occur.

That is where Agnihotra comes into the picture, I said. Agnihotra can protect those who do it, help the environment, etc.

I used the example of the Bhopal disaster where families doing Agnihotra did Om Tryambakam fire during the poison gas incident and were saved despite 3,000 others who perished that night.

The talk seemed to have been well received and two pyramids were sold and the word seems to be spreading as another person told a friend who came to my house yesterday and purchased two more pyramids (one for the person at the talk and one for the friend). And so it spreads

Donna Scott and Samuel Kiwasz

Michael Horn is the authorized American representative for Billy Meier, the Swiss man who allegedly communicates with extraterrestrials. Meier is rather well known, and is said to have been receiving these communications for more than fifty years.

One reason I was more interested in speaking to these people now than before was the emphasis on the columns being constructed in Maheshwar for communication with other beings. Also the spaceship dream Parvati had as well as Reiner's photos. It seems as if a new phase is beginning.

Healing in New Mexico

Ivy Amar

The moment we arranged to have Abel Hernandez and his wife Aleta Macan come to New Mexico on their Homa Therapy Tour, the energy felt as if Shree Vasant Himself was physically coming. As the preparations to arrange two public programs began, several women--myself, Maria Rathner and others, as well as I'm sure, countless angelic helpers, set about advertising the events as "Agnihotra: Bioenergetic Scientific Harmonization Sessions". We were being initiated into the art of introducing Agnihotra to the public. With knowledge of the miraculous healings that regularly took place in South America, we were specifically asked to neither make claims of healing or have any expectations--just let the Grace of the fire do the work.

Monday, May 1, 2007, the first event took place at the Albuquerque Mennonite Church. People arrived an hour before sunset to hear about Agnihotra and then experience the fire with many pyramids lit at once.

We noticed a lovely older woman slowly come in, walking with difficulty, leaning on a metal walker. Her name was Noma and she told me she was an artist, but a traumatic accident several years ago left her in a disabled condition. She was in chronic pain, and unable to create art as her hands were severely affected. She also had back surgery because of fragments of bone which were also causing difficulty.

Noma took a seat in the front row. At sunset, twelve of us performed Agnihotra on the stage, after which Abel softly guided us in chanting OM SHREE, first out loud, and then silently within, focusing on the fire.

Two days later Abel received a call from Noma. She had waited a day before calling because the healing she experienced was so incredible she thought it might be too good to be true. She told him that when she went home after the program, she was feeling so much positive energy and love that she didn't want to go to sleep. She decided to take her customary baking soda bath. Along with her bath, she had the impulse to massage her entire body, head to toe, with the Agnihotra ash she had received at the program.

After applying the ash, Noma felt a healing light fill her entire being, bathing her in total peace and love. After years of disturbed sleep due to pain, she fell asleep immediately and slept for ten hours straight! Usually getting out of bed in the morning was a half-hour ordeal for Noma; however, the next morning she rolled right out of bed with comfort and ease.

That same night Noma came to the Homa program in Santa Fe. She was no longer using a walker. As she graciously shared her healing miracle with us, tears of relief and gratitude flowed from her heart. It is all Grace.

Homa Therapy and Health

Abel Hernandez and Aleta Macan

We have been traveling and sharing the Homa Fires in South America under Shree Vasant Paranjpe's guidance for several years. When we go to the countryside, we focus on Homa Farming Super-Technology; and when we go to the cities, we concentrate mainly on Homa Therapy (H.T.) for Human Health in all niches (hospitals, medical rehabilitation- and detox centers, clinics, retirement homes, orphanages, etc.) and education (primary and secondary schools, special education centers, universities, etc.).

As man searches for answers to different questions, the understanding of science widens and the application of technology sharpens. Today's health practitioners and medical doctors have a more holistic view and a greater understanding of different therapeutic modalities such as:

Allopathic, Homeopathic, Naturopathic, Chiropractic, Ayurvedic, etc.

Thanks to the new discoveries in Biophysics, Bioenergetics and the results observed with the Homa Therapy treatment in many pathologies, Homa Therapy is being easily adopted by medical doctors and therapists as an important "Complementary Medicine" to reestablish balance in the physical, emotional and mental level. This translates into health. Within three weeks, patients who practice Agnihotra regularly and take Agnihotra Ash medicines report positive changes.

Homa Therapy is very simple, practical, inexpensive and powerful. Sometimes incurable cases are cured. Homa Therapy is based on the manipulation of subtle energies of light and sound. Homa Therapy is very easy to implement in medical facilities and homes.

These are some of the medical problems that have been successfully treated with Homa Therapy:

Addictions (Alcohol, cigarettes, drugs, etc.)

Allergies

Arteriosclerosis

Arthritis

Asthma

Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD)

Burns

Cancer

Chronic Fatigue Syndrome

Circulatory problems

Congenital heart malformation

Congestion Heart Failure (CHF)

Convulsions / Epilepsy

Depression

Diabetes (even in advanced stages)

Drowsiness

Eyesight loss

Frustration, Anxiety, Anger, Violence, Fear

Gastritis / Acidity / Indigestion

Headache

10 Hearing loss

Heart problems / Arrhythmia
Hemorrhoids
High cholesterol levels
HIV + AIDS
Hypertension
Impotence / Frigidity
Incontinence
Low I.Q. in Down Syndrome
Infections
Infertility
Insomnia
Kidney failure
Learning disabilities
Lupus (SLE)
Manic depression
Mental retardation
Multiple sclerosis
Nightmares
Pain
Paralysis
Parkinson's disease
Posttraumatic Stress Syndrome
Psoriasis Schizophrenia
Sinusitis / Colds
Skin diseases
Stroke
Tumors
Ulcers
Weight problems, and others

Since Homa Therapy heals the atmosphere and the healed atmosphere heals the mind,

Homa Therapy provides a solution to many psychosomatic problems.

Whenever and wherever we are with crowds
of people, we ask the following questions:

1) Is anyone suffering from insomnia,
nervous tension, stress, high blood pressure,
heart disease, kidney problems, liver problems, arthritis, allergies, headaches, gastritis, cancer, AIDS, diabetes, chronic degenerative diseases, general pains, sickness, etc.?

2) Does anybody know someone suffering from alcoholism, tobacco addiction, drug abuse or other self-destructive behaviour?

3) Do you know anyone suffering from mental disorders like schizophrenia, manic depression or others?

Believe it or not, whether they are rich or poor, educated or illiterate, well known or unknown, all people raise their hands to many of the problems. There is suffering in all strata of society and many people have little pharmacies in their homes.

With Homa Therapy, we have a real SELF HEALING TOOL to offer to everyone who is ready to improve his/her life. Of course there is always free will. If somebody does not want to use this simple and effective healing

tool, they are free to continue on their path. We have witnessed how some people with so-called incurable but treatable diseases like schizophrenia got cured through the application of the Homa Therapy treatment. These people are normally condemned for life to certain medications with their respective side effects.

We have seen how people with diabetes, suffering from non-healing wounds or a diabetic foot ready to be amputated, recovered completely with Homa Therapy treatment. The blood circulation could be restored in the "dead" tissues and muscles. Can you imagine their joy, happiness and gratitude, when they walk with both their feet?

We have had cases of unexplainable diseases (black magic and witchcraft) where no doctor could find the right pill or cream or treatment to alleviate the pain and suffering, but Homa Therapy treatment healed the persons.

We have seen mentally retarded children becoming more intelligent and independent. They are able to have a normal social life, have friends, go out and enjoy life. We have seen the happiness, relief and gratitude of their parents for Homa Therapy.

We have witnessed in a school for special children (hyperactive, learning disabilities, mentally retarded, autistic, etc.) how chaos, restlessness and violence turned into peace and support for each other and how the I.Q. of these children improved. We saw the amazed faces of the teachers and the happy faces of parents telling that their children at home are now manageable, friendly and sociable.

We saw a young man with hardly any light in his eyes and a weak body. He was hoping that Homa Therapy would help him to overcome AIDS. And it did!!! This young man has completely recovered his physical strength and his desire to live.

We have witnessed how almost blind people started recovering their eyesight within a short time period or almost deaf people asked people not to talk so loud.

An 8-year-old handicapped girl, who had spent her whole life in a bed and in a stroller, started to move, started to talk and express herself in many ways and most amazingly, she started to crawl and slowly walk with the help of anything she could grab around her. The grandmother's tears of joy and the mother's happiness are indescribable.

But we ask some other important questions.

4) Is anybody suffering from egotitis (swollen ego)?

5) Does anybody know anyone who suffers from anger, selfishness, bitterness, greed, jealousy, envy, and so on? Sometimes, we see this person in front of the mirror.

6) And what pill or syrup or injection or cream or medication can we buy in the pharmacy for those behaviors or feelings?

We all know the answer. But these crocodiles can be tamed with the practice of Homa Therapy. This Homa Therapy nourishes all the wonderful attributes which God has given to the human being, such as understanding, compassion, kindness, humility, unconditional love and service towards others.

We have witnessed families who, through the practice of Homa Therapy, could again communicate and live together harmoniously. They truly started caring about each other, becoming a better person, father, mother, son, daughter, parent, etc. Now, they could truly create a home.

People who carried bitterness and resentments, sometimes for many years, felt renewed and relieved of this heavy burden. Children saw that the Homa Fires took away all the dark things inside of them, like fear. We have seen elderly people whose last days were made cheerful, who died with ease and a smile on their face.

Another question we might ask:

7) Are you suffering from lack of money to cover all your basic needs?

Even in these matters, Homa Therapy practitioners tell us that they are now more prosperous: "My sales are improving", "I got a job", "So many opportunities of making an income are showing up", "I have so many new ideas on how to achieve a better income", "I was promoted", "They pay me more for my organic Homa seedlings", "I get more money for ecological Homa products on the market", "I spend less money on unnecessary things, which I thought I needed", "I sold that apartment which I could not sell for the last three years", "I have more patients", "I am no longer drinking", "I am no longer smoking", "I am no longer going out playing and wasting my money", etc.

Homa Therapy is so much more than anyone can imagine. It is the answer to everyone's personal needs and the path to true happiness.

The Homa Valley in Creation

We see a time when the more appropriate name for this valley will be Homa Valley as opposed to the Hunter Valley and we encourage interested people to buy land near Om Shree Dham to set up their own Homa farms. In this way we can join up the biospheres, contributing to planetary healing. We can exchange our individual skills and specialties, becoming self sufficient on a regional basis and being a great example to others of a viable, self- sustainable, peaceful way of life.

Ceaseless Om Tryambakam Fire Necessary

With more locals taking up Agnihotra it enables Om Shree Dham to fulfil its energetic mission of ceaseless Om Tryambakam Fire for Planetary healing. Last night I was given a vision in a dream of a Light grid permeating the atmosphere of our planet. By performing these Homas and especially ceaseless Fire on the background of daily Agnihotra great Light is ushered in and grounded. Shree Vasant visited this valley in 1988 and confirmed that it was the correct place for a Homa Centre having once been a place of great spiritual austerity practiced by the Rishis of old. Many people of vision have told us that this place is a nodal point for the planetary grid and that when Homa is performed here it spreads out through the grid. Ceaseless ongoing Om Tryambakam will create tremendous healing for Australia. May we work together preparing the ground for Heaven on Earth.

Success with redirecting Ant colonies at Om Shree Dham

I noted with interest the recommendation of using ash and mantra to dissuade ants from living in certain places on one's land. We have sent ants away from the house by placing Agnihotra ash barriers at the doorway and other entry points. A large ant nest next to a caravan on our land disappeared quickly after we placed Agnihotra ash in the ant holes.

Recently we noticed termites entering a pile of building wood stored on the ground. We cleaned up the termite pipes they had built linking the soil with the pile of wood and then I sprinkled Agnihotra ash around the wood pile while saying the Om Tryambakam Mantra. Despite dampness and a position near plenty of termite hills no termites have ventured near that woodpile over several months now.

Letter to Satsang

Dear MaestroVasant,

Thank you for your time and your good advice.

The only thing I can promise is that, until the end of my days, I will fight for the conservation of nature. I will practice Agnihotra every day at sunrise and at sunset in the little Resonance Point for the conservation of our planet.

With affection and gratitude,
Floripe

Agnihotra Program at The Rappahannock Wellness Center

Ed.

An Agnihotra program was presented by Abel Hernandez in the Community Room at the Rappahannock Wellness Center in Sperryville, Virginia on May 16, 2007. About 35 people were in attendance, including newcomers, people who had recently learned Agnihotra, and longtime practitioners.

Several film clips of testimonies on the healing effects of Agnihotra were shown.

At sunset Agnihotra time, eleven pyramids were blazing. Afterwards, many people commented about the powerful energy they felt from the fires.

A follow-up session is planned for July. Individual assistance was made available upon request.
